

The Archdiocese of Omaha wants to express our concern and compassion for all those who have been wounded by sexual misconduct at the hands of Church personnel.

We are truly sorry for the pain this betrayal of trust has caused, and will continue to do all we can to help those who have been affected.

The Archdiocesan manager for the office of victim outreach and prevention continues to be available for all those who have been hurt, seek to be heard, and want to start the healing process.

Services of the Victim Outreach and Prevention Office:

- An opportunity for your concerns to be heard
- Outreach that is centered around and individualized by those seeking help
- Emphasis on providing services that maximize healing and assist with closure

If you are one of these affected, please consider contacting Mary Beth Hanus, LMHP
